Perlyna Polissia

Natural oil production

perlyna-polissya.com

Since 2010, Perlyna Polissia (Pearl of Polissia) has been producing cold-pressed natural oils. The result is an environmentally friendly product rich in nutrients and beneficial compounds. Their production technology is based on a combination of centuries-old experience and modern science, using cold pressing instead of heat treatment to extract the oils from seeds. This allows the delicate, healthy substances in the oils to be preserved during extraction.

Perlyna Polissia has a wide assortment of oils, including walnut, grape seed, wheat germ, rose hip, milk thistle, sea buckthorn, pumpkin seed, and flax. The company also sells fruit, dietary fiber supplements, phyto-teas, and cosmetic oils.
